Canada-Abortion Shooting

VANCOUVER, British Columbia (AP) -- Police in two countries tried Wednesday to find the person whose bullets critically wounded a doctor and brought the increasingly violent fight over abortion into normally peaceful Canada.

While two U.S. doctors have been killed and another wounded by anti-abortion activists over the last two years, shootings of any kind have remained a rarity in Canada, where guns are tightly controlled.

That made Tuesday's attack on Dr. Garson Romalis as he sat eating breakfast in his home all the more frightening.

"I'm shocked, absolutely shocked that somebody would be shot," said Dr. Mark Schonfeld, president of the British Columbia Medical Association. "It's just so foreign to our way of life and our thinking."

Romalis performs abortions, a procedure that in Canada is readily available at most government-financed hospitals and clinics.

Canadian and U.S. authorities, including the FBI, were trying to find the person who opened fire with an AK-47 assault rifle from just outside Romalis' house. The doctor nearly bled to death from a bullet wound that severed an artery but was reported in stable condition Wednesday.

Meanwhile, police patrols were stepped up in the neighborhoods of all of Vancouver's abortion clinic employees, said Constable Anne Drennan, a police spokeswoman.

Canadian authorities were also talking to police agencies in several U.S. states, including Florida, where two abortion-related murders have occurred in the last two years.

"We have no firm leads at this point," said Drennan.

The shooting came less than a week after a Florida jury recommended the death penalty for Paul Hill, who fatally shot a doctor and his escort outside a Pensacola, Fla., abortion clinic on July 29.

Hill was friendly with Michael Griffin, who's serving a life sentence for killing Dr. David Gunn outside another Pensacola clinic in 1993. Rachelle Shannon, who's serving 11 years for wounding a doctor in both arms outside a Wichita, Kan., clinic last year, had written more than two dozen letters to Griffin.

Drennan said police were investigating reports that Romalis' assailant may have checked out the doctor's house a day before the attack.

An attendant at a nearby gas station also recalled giving change to a man who used a pay phone about the same time Romalis' wife received two strange calls asking about her husband. Police believe the caller may have been trying to learn if the doctor was home.

Romalis, 57, was struck in the upper left leg by one of three bullets that smashed into his house. It shattered his thigh bone and severed his femoral artery.

He was making a solid recovery but was expected to remain hospitalized for some time, said Vancouver Hospital spokeswoman Linda Bartz.

harassment but for physical harm. [redacted] indicated that he drives a 1993 green Jeep Grand Cherokee and that the only other doctor, who does abortions, in Riverside is [redacted] who does a few abortions for Planned Parenthood but who does not drive a green Blazer. b6 b7C

[redacted] stated that [redacted] had also told him about a doctor in Vancouver, Canada who had been critically shot with an AK47 assault rifle and that it was believed that the group from Florida were involved. [redacted] was then told by [redacted] to notify the local law enforcement agency and advise them. b6 b7C

[redacted] advised that he did contact the Riverside Police Department and remarked that they acted confused as to what they were to do. [redacted] then contacted [redacted] to have her send him a letter which he could give to the Riverside Police Department advising them of the facts. [redacted] provided a copy of the letter to the writer. b6 b7C

[redacted] stated that at a fund raiser, put on by FMF, he had been speaking to [redacted] FMF, and asked her to send him a copy of the article concerning the shooting incident in Vancouver, Canada. [redacted] received that article via facsimile on November 17, 1994 and provided a copy of the article from [redacted] to the writer. b6 b7C

[redacted] advised that on January or February 1993 OPERATION RESCUE began an operation known as "No Where To Hide." The purpose of this operation was to locate doctors who performed abortions. [redacted] learned that a realtor [redacted] had provided his home address, road maps leading to has home and the plot maps showing the specific location of [redacted] home to OPERATION RESCUE. [redacted] believed that [redacted] who holds himself out as a realtor may have been that person who provided the above information. b6 b7C

[redacted] stated that a group, consisting of men, woman and children, led by [redacted] had set up in front of his home, every Friday morning, and were picketing against him conducting abortions. [redacted] indicated many were carrying anti-abortion signs while others were yelling anti-abortion messages and some "veiled" threats such as "We're going to make you meet Jesus" and "Were going to make you stop killing babies." [redacted] added that they were also stopping his neighbors and were b6 b7C

Just a quick update on phone conversation regarding information we have.

Operation Rescue held a demonstration at Doctor's Family Planning Medical Group in Tustin on Saturday, November 12 1994. At the demonstration there were approx. 30 followers and among the key leaders spotted were [redacted] (an advocate of violence against abortion providers from Milwaukee), [redacted] Operation Rescue Southern California), [redacted] b6 b7C

[redacted] (a clinic escort) called to inform us that he heard [redacted] telling the crowd that they were planning to target a doctor in the Riverside area who drives a green Blazer. b6 b7C

Because of the recent escalation in activities you have experienced by these people and the natonal climate, we feel strongly that Law Enforcement should take this as a real threat. [redacted] has been in contact with the FBI both locally and in Washington to make sure they follow through. b6 b7C

We will keep you posted as things develop.

[redacted] b6 b7C also mentioned that 2 "friends" of members of "Jubilee Handcuff" have joined this group. I have had extensive picketing + harassment at my home on Friday evenings

Synopsis: On January 31, 2000, the Feminist Majority Foundation (FMF) received a threatening comment on their "fem-alert." The individual who responded provided the following information:

> "first_name: dr killer
> last_name: execute doctors... b6 b7C
> option99_comments: all of abortion doctors will be murdered down"

The message was sent on January 31, 2000. The creator of the message would have had to log onto the Feminist Majority Foundation's homepage: www.feminist.org, then select the link "fem-alert." The fem-alert link is provided for people who log on to the FMF homepage and want to provide their biographical information so that they can be placed on the FMF's mailing list.

The FMF staff traced the IP address to the Los Angeles Unified School District; the IP address is b7E

[redacted] for the FMF contacted [redacted] Systems Software for Information Technology Division of the Los Angeles Unified School District, in order to report the receipt of the threat. After speaking to [redacted] immediately placed a trap-and-trace on the FMF homepage. The trap- b6 b7C

[redacted] Systems Software for Information Technology Division of the Los Angeles Unified School District was interviewed telephonically. She was advised of the identity of the interviewing agent and the purpose of the interview. She voluntarily provided the following information:

On January 31, 2000 at 5:48pm Pacific time, [redacted] received a voice mail from [redacted] the Feminist Majority Foundation (FMF) who reported that they had received a threatening comment on their "fem-alert." The FMF staff had traced the IP address to the Los Angeles Unified School District; the IP address is [redacted] Over the next several days, [redacted] traded voicemails regarding the E-mail.

[redacted] indicated that the IP address from which the comment was sent is from the Los Angeles Unified School District's firewall. Every user in the LA Unified School District has to pass through their firewall when logging onto the Internet. The LA Unified School District covers 700 square miles of Los Angeles and 640 schools, kindergarten through 12th grade. Each student has his or her own individual account.

After speaking to [redacted] immediately placed a trap-and-trace on the FMF homepage. [redacted] will be alerted immediately if one of the LA Unified School District's users attempts to access the FMF homepage. She will then turn the matter over to the Unified School District's internal police department.

FEDERAL BUREAU OF INVESTIGATION

Date of transcription 11/08/2001

Federal Bureau of Investigation (FBI) Special Agent [redacted] responded to the Feminist Majority Foundation (FMF), 1600 Wilson Blvd., Suite 801, Arlington, VA as a result of the receipt of a Federal Express (FedEx) package received that possibly contained a threat of anthrax exposure and a powdery substance. [redacted] was interviewed and provided the following information: b6 b7C

The FedEx package was received on 11/08/2001. The return address was [redacted] the National Abortion Federation, 1755 Massachusetts Avenue, Washington, DC 20036. b6 b7C

[redacted] had received a telephone call from [redacted] earlier in the day warning that she had opened a similar package which had contained an anthrax threat and a powder substance. The FMF issued a warning by facsimile to their network of reproductive health care providers and related associations. A copy of that warning is attached to this FD-302.

Arlington County Police Sergeant [redacted] had previously responded to the FMF and left prior to the FBI's arrival. b6 b7C

[redacted] provided SA [redacted] with information concerning tracking numbers for FedEx packages that were received at the FMF and other locations throughout the eastern United States. Those documents are attached to this FD-302. b6 b7C

The FedEx courier who delivered the package was [redacted] This information was provided by [redacted] who responded to FMF.

The FedEx envelope and the contents were collected by SA [redacted] and SA [redacted] members of the FBI National Capital Response Squad's Hazardous Material Response Team for further examination. Due to the potentially hazardous nature of the substance inside the envelope, not further examination of the package was conducted at the scene. b6 b7C

Title: [redacted]
FEMINIST MAJORITY FOUNDATION, MS. MAGAZINE (VICTIM),
THREATENING COMMUNICATIONS,
AUGUST 17, 2002 b6 b7C

Synopsis: To close file and report closure of investigation to DTOU.

Details: On August 23, 2002, Special Agent (SA) [redacted] b6 b7C with the Federal Bureau of Investigation's (FBI) Joint Terrorism Task Force (JTTF) contacted [redacted] NATIONAL CENTER FOR WOMEN AND POLICING, FEMINIST MAJORITY FOUNDATION, (FMF) 1600 Wilson Boulevard, Suite 801, Arlington, Virginia, zip code 22209, work telephone number (703) 522-2214, regarding three (3) voice mail messages that were left on the FMF's main telephone answering system.

[redacted] advised that between August 17, 2002 and August 25, 2002, three (3) voice mail messages were left on the main voice message system at the FMF. In each of the three messages, a caller identified herself as [redacted] For purposes of this investigation, the only voice mail message that was threatening in nature was sent on August 17, 2002, at 9:12 PM. In this message, [redacted] directed her statements to [redacted] the FMF. [redacted] advised that "the next time I am involved in great social change in the context of the great American feminist movement I wish to be consulted before they push me into it. The next time my relationships with the women I know in England are undermined by this garbage I will fucking burn the god damn MS. building down. I will find where you mothers are and I will come over there and start burning ok. And that's the reality of the thing..." Additionally, [redacted] provided her telephone number in one of the voice mail messages, [redacted]
